National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ)

NFQ self certified as compatible with the Qualifications Framework for the European Higher Education Area (the Bologna Framework).

NFQ used to classify skills in Ireland's National Skills Strategy.

NFQ was referenced to the European Qualifications Framework for Lifelong Learning (EQF).

NFQ – currently includes only national awards (underpinned by Quality Assurance).

Recommencing a national dialogue on NFQs.

Planning a Review of the NFQ to assess impact.

Seeking a legislative amendment to better support recognition of foreign awards.

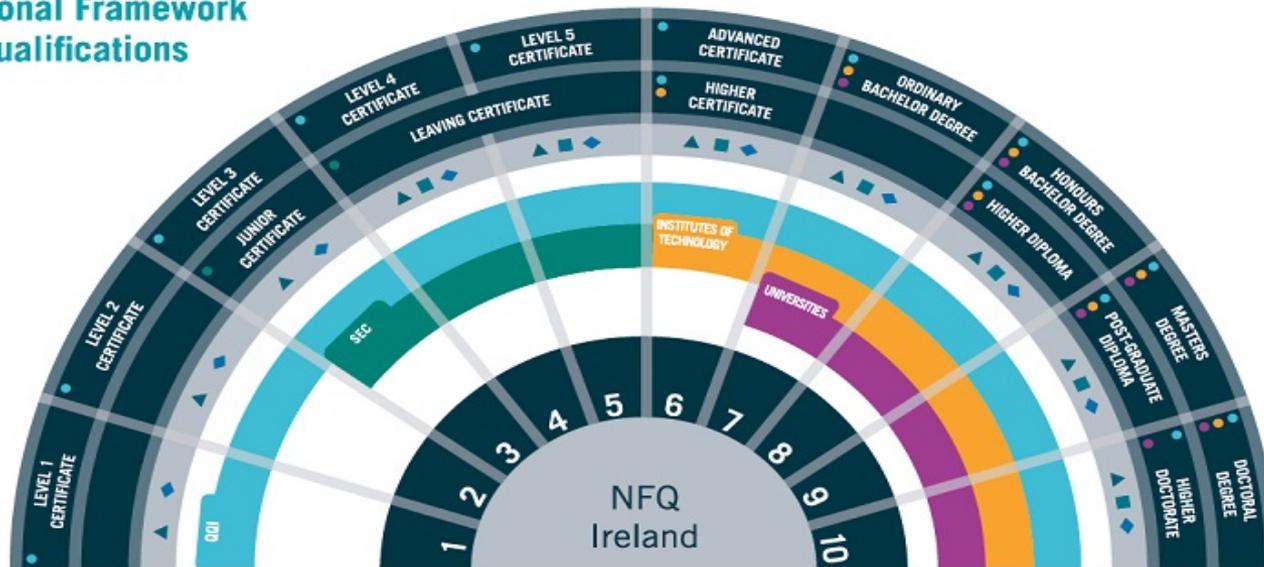

EQF levels appear on many qualification certificates issued in Ireland and also on Certificate and Diploma Supplements.

National Framework of Qualifications

AWARDING BODIES

- Quality and Qualifications Ireland (QQI) makes awards in further and higher education and training
- SEC - State Examinations Commission (Department of Education and Skills)
- Institutes of Technology
- Universities

AWARDS IN THE FRAMEWORK

There are four classes of award in the National Framework of Qualifications:

- ▲ Major Awards: named in the outer rings, are the principal class of awards made at a level
- ▲ Minor Awards: are for partial completion of the outcomes for a Major Award
- ▲ Supplemental Awards: are for learning that is additional to a Major Award
- ▲ Special Purpose Awards: are for relatively narrow or purpose-specific achievement

Economic & social

- Nearly one in eight people living in Ireland comes from abroad (11.8%).....the sixth highest proportion of foreign nationals in Europe
- Diverse Labour force
- Matching skills & labour market needs
- Social inclusion - promoting one step up
- Maximising potential & talent
- Recognition of qualifications

European Skills Agenda

The European Commission published a New Skills Agenda in June 2016. It sets out a number of key actions that relate to qualifications. These include:

- A Skills Guarantee to help low-skilled adults acquire a minimum level of literacy, numeracy and digital skills and progress towards an upper secondary qualification.
- A review of the European Qualifications Framework and the related annexes for a better understanding of qualifications and to make better use of all available skills in the European labour market.
- The 'Digital Skills and Jobs Coalition' to support co-operation among education, employment and industry stakeholders.
- The 'Blueprint for Sectoral Cooperation on Skills' to improve skills intelligence and address skills shortages in specific economic sectors.
- A 'Skills Profile Tool Kit for Third Country Nationals' to support early identification and profiling of skills and qualifications of asylum seekers, refugees and other migrants.
- A revision of the Europass Framework, offering people better and easier-to-use tools to present their skills and get useful real-time information on skills needs and trends which can help with career and learning choices.
- Making Vocational Education and Training (VET) a first choice by enhancing opportunities for VET learners to undertake a work based learning experience and promoting greater visibility of good labour market outcomes of VET.
- A review of the Recommendation on Key Competences to help more people acquire the core set of skills necessary to work and live in the 21st century with a special focus on promoting entrepreneurial and innovation-oriented mind-sets and skills.
- It is anticipated that the above will have a significant influence and impact in terms of developing, awarding and recognising qualifications going forward.
- QQI will keep abreast of developments.

Where to?

- Qualifications Frameworks and systems need to be dynamic and innovative
- Informal and non-formal learning
- Private, professional, sectoral and international qualifications
- Neighbouring country arrangements
- Development of Regional Frameworks and interest in World Reference levels/learning outcomes
- The EQF can play an important function in facilitating the recognition of European qualifications internationally and the recognition of qualifications from around the world in Europe.
- European New Skills Agenda (Driver) including revised EQF Recommendation
- Next phase important - new challenges..... new supports needed
- Crossroads..... Fix or Grow

Understanding the many EU initiatives and links between them, can often be difficult.

This web page aims to provide information on a range of EU initiatives to individuals, employers, career professionals and providers.

These European initiatives and tools are free of charge and designed to help if you are:

- An individual, wishing to work or study at home, or in another European country;
- An employer, recruiting individuals and looking to understand skills, qualifications and achievements;
- A careers professional advising adults or students looking for work or study opportunities; or
- An education institution wishing to understand qualifications or to get your qualifications recognised overseas.

This guide has been devised by the UK and Irish National Europass Centres. We hope you find it useful.

What does it do?

Euroguidance is a network of centres that share and distribute information on lifelong guidance, which includes advice on careers, study and training abroad - particularly in Europe.

How does it help?

Careers professionals around Europe are able to access information and resources about learning mobility and lifelong guidance in Europe via the Euroguidance centres. This information can then be passed on to individual job-seekers and learners.

Who is it for?

Careers professionals.
